1. Background

At the 5th Tokyo International Conference on African Development (TICAD V), held in Yokohama in 2013, Prime Minister Abe announced the “African Business Education Initiative for Youth” (hereafter referred to as the “ABE Initiative”). This is a strategic five-year plan providing 1,000 youths in Africa with opportunities to study at Japanese universities as well as to do internships at Japanese enterprises. ABE Initiative builds on the concept that there is a need for human resource development in both private and public sectors of Africa through cultivating a strong human network between Japan and Africa. At TICAD VI held in Nairobi in 2016, Prime Minister Abe reiterated the Initiative.

More than 1,200 participants from all the 54 countries have ever joined the program since 2014, and over 770 participants have completed. This has resulted in establishing a wide range of human resource network of ABE Initiative participants. Furthermore, many Japanese companies and ABE Initiative participants have collaborated in various ways to promote private sectors development in Africa.

In addition, there are still many challenges to achieve “Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)” in Africa. It is thus vital to develop human resources that contribute to tackling the challenges in the respective fields through policy decision and implementation.

Hence, JICA provides JICA offer the “SDGs Global Leaders Program” to enhance the capacity of mid-career public officials, academic researchers and other relevant individuals, who are expected to contribute to the socio-economic development of respective countries.
