

Biographies

Takahiro MIYOSHI

Academic Background:

Masters in Political Science, Graduate School, Nihon University, Japan

Masters in Economics, The University of Manchester, England

Currently: Representative Director, M M Service Inc.

Currently serving as an expert in the Republic of Zambia for the Project for Participatory Village Development in Isolated Areas (Sector: Promotion of Resident Activities with Participatory Approach) until May 2007

Background:

1992–1994 Majored in international politics, Graduate School, Nihon University

1994–1995 Fukuyama Consultants International Co., Ltd.

1995–1997 Studied abroad at The University of Manchester, England Majored in development economics

1998–2001 Overseas Division, Fukuyama Consultant Co., Ltd.

2002–2004 PCM Team, Department of Planning and Program, Foundation for Advanced Studies on International Development

2004 Established M M Service Inc.

Main Areas of Expertise:

Management of international development cooperation projects; participatory approach management, including project cycle management; project monitoring, evaluation and analysis

Collaborative Researcher

Narihide NAGAYO

Academic Background:

Completed Agricultural Sciences Doctoral Degree Program, University of Tsukuba

Currently: Senior Advisor, JICA

Background:

1978 Graduated from Department of Agriculture Engineering, Faculty of Agriculture, Tokyo University of Agriculture

Joined Naigai Engineering

1980 Japan Overseas Cooperation Volunteers (JOCV)

Served as a JICA Expert, and Studied abroad in Mexico

1992 Senior Advisor, JICA

2001 Completed Agricultural Sciences Doctoral Degree Program, University of Tsukuba