- Improve PCG response capacity to coastal maritime incidents and search and rescue.
 - Improve PCG response capacity to coastal maritime law enforcement.
- With this, JICA as part of its strategic partnership with the Philippines implemented the Maritime Safety Capability Improvement Project to:
- The Philippines, an archipelagic state, has the world's 5th longest coastlines (approximately 36,000 kilometers) and has more than 7,000 islands. The increase in passenger and freight transport traffic, aging vessels, and natural disasters have posed a challenge to the country's maritime sector.

VOICES FROM THE STAKEHOLDERS

"The support from countries like Japan helped strengthen our maritime law enforcement capability and allowed us to recognize the role of everyone in the organization's success."
 - Coast Guard Staff for Education and Training

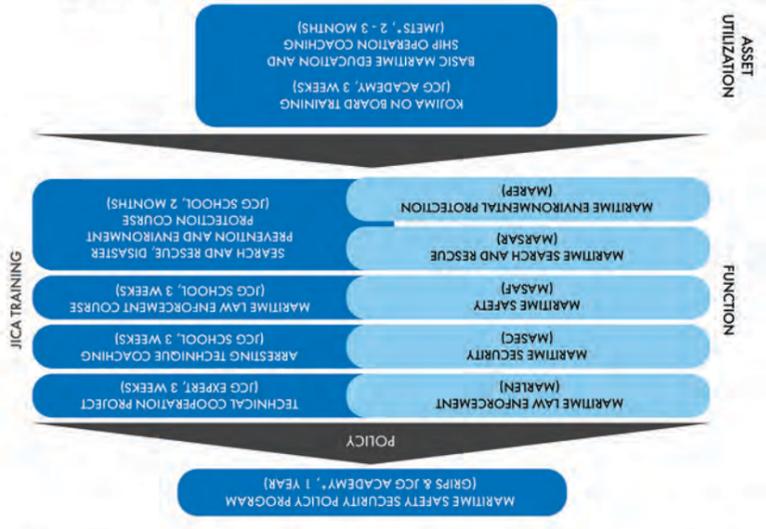

"In contemporary time, nothing could best describe the importance of the country's maritime domain than that of sending to sea the MRV Class vessels acquired from Japan. She is fast, stable, maneuverable, sleek for inter-island cruise, and a haul sea-worthy vessel even beyond coastal waters."
