Study trip has been organized in Malaysia

DPUB2 organized a study trip to Malaysia from 5-13 November. The Malaysian government has successfully conducted JICA technical cooperation projects on disability between 2005 and 2015, which achieved various results. One of these is supported employment, where job coach services are still provided even after the project ends. DPUB2 organized this study trip to learn about Malaysian experience.

A total of 20 people participated in this study trip, including representatives from government agencies, NGOs, potential job coach trainers, Mongolian National Chamber of Commerce and Industry, private companies.

The first day of the study trip, the delegates visited the Department of Social Welfare in Malaysia

On the first day of the study trip, the participants visited the Ministry of Women, Family and Community Development and they received lectures on the employment support system and services for persons with disabilities provided by the government.

In the following days, they visited examples of persons with disabilities' working in the private sector, specifically persons with intellectual disabilities to learn about the initiatives of the companies and job coach service. In addition, they visited the United Voices (NGO) and learned about the welfare employment and self-advocacy by persons with autism and intellectual disabilities.

The study trip team observed employment of persons with hearing-impairment in AEON, Malaysia

On the last day of the study trip, the participants was divided into 3 groups: potential job coach trainers, government officials and private companies, and they exchanged opinions on how to utilize what they have learnt in the training in Mongolia. Each team made a presentation. A follow-up meeting will be held to discuss cooperation with private companies.

Group discussion held on the last day of the study trip.
