Welcome to Yokohama Center

We are very pleased to welcome you to Yokohama Center. We staff members at the Center are prepared to do all we can to help you, who have come all the way to Japan from faraway places, to concentrate on your program and enjoy your stay in Japan comfortably.

Although Yokohama Center cannot provide you with luxurious amenities such as those you may find at first-class hotels, many of the staff members put all their hearts every day into performing tasks ranging from creating training and cultural exchange programs, preparing meals, and cleaning.

You may feel very busy with program, but we hope that through exchanges with people in Japan as well as participants from many other countries, you will be able to make a lot of good memories in Japan.

4. About Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is prohibited by Japanese laws and rules and regulations of JICA, and JICA does not tolerate any of such conduct. This applies not only to JICA participants but also to other JICA-related persons. JICA and other relevant authorities will take necessary measures against those who are suspected of conducting sexual harassment.

We ask that everyone keep these guidelines in mind and give due consideration to Japanese morals, social customs, and laws and regulations.

Definition of Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is defined as undesirable sexual behavior during program, visits, home visits, recreational activities, or in private life. It does not matter whether such behavior has been conducted at the Yokohama Center or elsewhere. In general, whether such behavior is considered sexual harassment or not depends on how the victim takes it.

Sexual harassment generally refers to the behavior based on a person's sexual interests and desires, but it also includes behavior based on preconceptions of gender.

If you are a victim of sexual harassment

- (1) If you receive sexual harassment, please feel free to contact JICA at any time through the staff at Yokohama Center. If you find it difficult to talk to these people by yourself, please contact JICA through people whom you can trust or by having them accompany you.
- (2) JICA will listen to your complaints, provide advice as necessary, and do its best to resolve issues quickly and appropriately. JICA will also take any necessary action on behalf of any one of you. Since strict confidentiality is imposed on all Yokohama Center staff, please do not hesitate to contact us if you would like to be consulted on an anonymous basis.
- (3) JICA will promptly investigate complaints of sexual harassment against JICA program participants and determine whether such act has actually been committed. If an allegation is proven to be true, JICA will suspend the person who committed the act from any further participation in training courses and ask the person to return home early before the end of the course. Moreover, JICA will notify the government of the offender's country to that effect.
- (4) Please keep a record of those acts. You should write down when, where, who, what, and how such acts were committed. If there are witnesses, you should seek their testimony.
- (5) If a training participant is arrested by the police, the case will be handled in accordance with the laws of Japan.

If you have witnessed sexual harassment

- (1) Do not condone sexual harassment simply because it has nothing to do with you. Do not forget that there are people who cannot stand up to sexual harassment because of their position.
- (2) If you notice that someone is a victim of sexual harassment, be courageous to offer help, warn the offender, offer to testify, and if the victim wishes to meet the staff at Yokohama Center, offer to escort that person. Also, if you have heard from a third party that someone is a victim of sexual harassment, please try to support the victim as much as you can. It is important that you do not blame the victim and not take hasty action without the permission of the victim.

To avoid actions that are considered sexual harassment

- (1) To avoid actions that are considered sexual harassment, the following points are important.
 - (a) Recognize the feelings of Japanese people you will be meeting.
 - (b) Discard the notion that you can treat other people as a sex object.

- (c) Do not associate superiority and inferiority with gender difference.
- (d) Recognize the authority of your position and give consideration to sensitivity to gender discrimination in society.
- (2) Please understand that people in different positions, of different gender, and having different views react differently to sexual behavior. You also need to understand that people with different social, cultural, religious, or generational backgrounds react differently.
 - (3) Do not repeat behavior found to upset or make others feel uncomfortable.
 - (4) Please understand that people do not necessarily always express their discontent over your words and actions. It is a mistake to think that a person is not angry with your words and actions just because that person did not complain. Please do not forget that there may be people around you who are offended even if you conducted acts against a person with the consent of that person. Furthermore, please fully understand that behavior that makes a person uncomfortable will be considered as sexual harassment regardless of your intentions, and having been drunk will be of no excuse.

Examples of behavior considered as sexual harassment

Examples of behavior considered as sexual harassment are as follows. However, do not forget that behavior not included in the following examples may fall within the scope of sexual harassment depending on the customs of other countries.

- (1) Comments of a sexual nature
 - (a) Comments based on sexual interests and desires
 - 1) Talking about physical characteristics such as asking a woman about her measurements
 - 2) Making obscene jokes
 - 3) Asking a woman who seems to be ill if she is getting a period or is already suffering menopause
 - 4) Asking questions about one's sex life and sexual experiences
 - 5) Spreading sexual rumors on someone or making someone a subject of sexual teasing
 - (b) Remarks based on gender-based discrimination
 - 1) Making comments such as "You have no guts even though you are a man", "You cannot entrust work to a woman", "Women are only needed as decorative object for the workplace."
 - 2) Calling people by names that defy their personality such as "young boy, young girl", "young lady", "daddy-o, aunty".
- (2) Sexual behavior
 - (a) Behavior based on sexual interests or desires
 - 1) Putting up posters of nude men or women, displaying pornographic images on the computer screen
 - 2) Intentionally showing or reading obscene articles and the like from magazines, etc.
 - 3) Gazing persistently at someone's body
 - 4) Persistently asking someone out on a date or dinner
 - 5) Making phone calls with sexual content or sending a letter or e-mail with sexual content
 - 6) Touching someone's body unnecessarily (Pay attention as kissing and hugging that are normal ways of greeting in foreign countries, and even placing a hand on someone's shoulder may be judged as sexual harassment in Japan.)
 - 7) Peeping in bathrooms, dressing rooms, etc.
 - 8) Forcing someone into having a sexual relationship
 - (b) Act based on sexual discrimination
 - 1) Forcing someone to perform tea serving, cleaning, personal tasks, etc. just because that person is a man or woman

- 2) Forcing someone to sing a duet at a karaoke house
- 3) Forcing a person of the opposite sex to sit next to, serve liquor, or dance together at a drinking party

5. JICA Environmental Policy

JICA Environmental Policy

(Translation from the original version in Japanese)

1. Basic Concept

The greatest responsibility of humanity is to provide a rich and diverse global environment for the future generations.

The increasing scale and diversity of man's activities have resulted in several serious environmental issues, such as global warming, depletion of the ozone layer, air and waste pollution, soil contamination, deforestation, and desertification—all of which risk the future of humanity.

Japan International Cooperation Agency (hereinafter referred to as JICA) is determined to protect our global environment that is extremely vital for the survival of mankind and natural life on earth. It also seeks the balance among environmental conservation, social prosperity, and sustainable development.

2. Basic Policy Guidelines

As stated in the "Law on General Rules of Japan International Cooperation Agency," JICA's mission is to "contribute to the promotion of international cooperation and to the sound development of Japan and the international socioeconomy by contributing to the development or reconstruction of the economy and society, or economic stability of overseas regions which are in the developing stage," particularly to global environmental protection in compliance with environmental laws and regulations. Furthermore, in order to prevent and reduce negative environmental impacts that result from JICA's activities, JICA will utilize an environmental management system and shall work continuously to improve it. The system will be based on the following policies:

(1) Promotion of environmental measures through international cooperation activities

Based on the Japanese government's Official Development Assistance (ODA) policies, JICA will promote cooperation activities for the protection and improvement of the environment. JICA will continue to:

- Promote international cooperation and projects that contribute to environmental protection in developing countries; and
- Mitigate any adverse environmental impacts of development programs and projects in accordance with the guidelines for environmental and social considerations.

(2) Promotion of activities for general environmental awareness

With the aim of raising public awareness, JICA collects information about environmental issues. JICA will continue to:

- Carry out promotional and educational activities by introducing JICA's programs on environmental issues;
- Conduct surveys and research on environmental issues, and develop relevant proposals; and
- Implement continuous training through seminars and guidance programs for JICA all employees and personnel engaged in JICA's activities.

(3) Promotion of environmentally friendly activities within JICA offices and other JICA facilities

JICA promotes environmental programs to reduce any negative impacts caused by its activities at offices and other facilities. JICA will continue to:

- Promote waste reduction, resource and energy conservation, recycling; and
- Procure environmentally friendly products based on the "Law on Promoting Green Purchasing" and other relevant laws and regulations.

(4) Compliance with environmental laws and regulations

JICA will consistently adhere to relevant environmental laws and regulations.

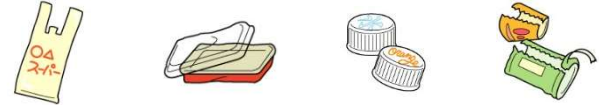

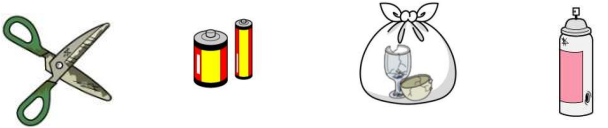

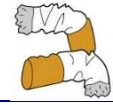

This Environmental Policy will be communicated to all employees and personnel who work in or on behalf of JICA, and also be publicized.

1st October 2015

President

Japan International Cooperation Agency
