JICA's sources of financing are well diversified with the strong support from Japanese Government while growing demand in Private-sector Investment Finance leads to the increase in US$ Bond issuance.

S&P Global Ratings

A+
Outlook: Stable
Short-Term: A-1

(22-Nov-2023)

- We consider JICA's critical foreign policy role as unchanged. The Japanese government views development cooperation as one of the most important diplomatic tools for foreign policy objectives. The government, solely through Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), provides Official Development Assistance (ODA), such as grant aid and finance, investment, and technical cooperation.
- Policy objectives include sustainable development and poverty reduction in line with Sustainable Development Goals, as well as contributions to international efforts to protect the environment
- The stable outlook on JICA reflects the outlook on our long-term sovereign credit rating on Japan. We are likely to keep our ratings on JICA equalized with our ratings on Japan

MOODY'S

A1
Outlook: Stable

(19-Feb-2024)

- JICA's creditworthiness reflects that of the sovereign, given the integration of its mandates with the government's foreign policy goals, particularly with regards to supporting socioeconomic development in developing countries, as well as the high level of government oversight of its operations
- As of the end of January 2024, JICA is 100% owned by the government of Japan. Given the deep involvement of the government in JICA's credit risk management and general management, Moody's considers the likelihood of JICA being privatized as remote. It is also likely that JICA will maintain its current structure. The JICA Act also states that the government will provide necessary financial and transfer to support JICA's operations

Summary

We have assigned an SQS2 Sustainability Quality Score (Very good) to Japan International Cooperation Agency's ('JICA' or 'the agency') social and sustainability bond framework dated 4 April 2023. JICA's use-of-proceeds framework has been established with the aim to finance projects across nine social categories and six categories with combined social and environmental objectives. The framework is aligned with the four core components of the International Capital Market Association's (ICMA) Green Bond Principles 2021 (including June 2022 Appendix 1), Social Bond Principles 2021 (including June 2022 Appendix 1) and Sustainability Bond Guidelines 2021. The framework also demonstrates a significant contribution to sustainability.

Risks related to ODA Loans

- Sovereign risk, which constitutes a major part of the credit risk for ODA Loans, is evaluated by utilizing information from recipient governments, as well as multilateral institutions including the IMF and the World Bank
- Though JICA's exposure can concentrate in a limited number of countries, the ODA Loan portfolio is well-diversified
- The ODA Loan portfolio is affected by political and economic changes of borrowing countries especially because of its extended tenors

Market Risk Management

- Enhanced capacity to absorb interest rate risk on the back of capital injections from the Government of Japan
- Market risk hedge includes interest rate swaps as well as cross currency swaps, securing collateral when necessary

Credit Risk Management

- Periodical reviews of borrower's credit based on internal credit rating system
- Prudent self-assessment of asset portfolio
- With the credit risk management above, write-offs and loan loss allowance are managed in a proper manner

Note ♦Paris Club ♦

- The Paris Club is an informal group of official creditors whose role is to find coordinated and sustainable solutions to the payment difficulties experienced with bilateral-based public debts (including both ODA loans and non-ODA credits). As debtor countries undertake reforms to stabilize and restore their macroeconomic and financial situations, usually through IMF-supported programs, Paris Club creditors provide appropriate debt treatments to debtor countries in the form of:
  - Rescheduling (i.e., debt relief by postponement); or
  - Reduction in debt service obligations
- In principle, rescheduling is applied to ODA Loans securing principal of their face value.
