

Introduction of Third-party Evaluators

(1) Indonesia - Impact Study on Transportation Projects in Jabotabek

Hitoshi Ieda

Graduated from University of Tokyo, Faculty of Engineering, Department of Civil Engineering, and obtained a doctorate and a certificate of Professional Engineer. Presently, holds the post of Professor of Civil Engineering at University of Tokyo, Graduate School of Engineering, specializing in transport planning and policy.

Shoshi Mizokami

Completed PhD course and obtained a doctorate in Engineering from Nagoya University. Presently, holds the post of Professor at Kumamoto University, Faculty of Engineering, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, specializing in transport planning.

Tetsuo Kidokoro

Graduated from University of Tokyo, Faculty of Engineering, and obtained a doctorate in Engineering. Presently, serves as Associate Professor of Urban Engineering at University of Tokyo, Graduate School of Engineering, specializing in urban and regional planning, Asian city planning theory and urban planning in developing countries.

Seiji Iwakura

Graduated from Tokyo University of Science, Faculty of Science and Technology, Department of Civil Engineering. Obtained a doctorate in Engineering from Tokyo Institute of Technology. Presently, serves as Associate Professor at Shibaura Institute of Technology, Faculty of Engineering, Department of Civil Engineering, specializing in transport planning, national land planning and transport activity analysis.

(3) Viet Nam - Impact Assessment of Transport Infrastructure in the Northern Vietnam

Tran Van Tho

Graduated from Hitotsubashi University, Faculty of Economics, having completed course of Graduate School of Economics, obtained a doctorate in Economics. Presently, holds the post of Professor at Waseda University, School of Social Sciences, specializing in international economics, development economics and Asian economic theory.

Akifumi Kuchiki

Obtained a doctorate in Agricultural Economics, from Kyoto University. Presently, holds the position of Director General, Research Planning Department, JETRO Institute of Developing Economics, specializing in Asian economics and international economics.

(2) Impact Evaluation Study on Public-Private Partnerships: The case of the Angat Water Supply Optimization Project and the Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System

Kazumasa Ozawa

Graduated from the University of Tokyo, Faculty of Engineering, Department of Civil Engineering and obtained a doctorate from the same institution. Presently, serves as Associate Professor at University of Tokyo, Graduate school of Frontier Sciences. In addition to specializing in civil engineering, he is involved in research concerning financing and utilization of technology of the private sector in public works.

Kazuo Ueda

Presently, President of PFI Japan, Inc. and Managing Director of Japan PFI Association (NPO). Serves as a member of PFI related committees in central and regional governments as an expert in PFI.

(4) Sri Lanka - Impact Evaluation of Greater Colombo Water Supply Projects

Asit K. Biswas

Graduated from Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Faculty of Civil Engineering. Obtained a Master's degree in Water Resource Management from IIT, and a doctorate in Water Resource Management from University of Strathclyde, United Kingdom. Presently, holds the position of President of Third World Centre for Water Management, formerly held the position of Chairman of the International Water Resources Association. Specializes in water resource management and water policy.

Cecilia Tortajada

Obtained a Master's degree in Genetics from the College of Postgraduates, National Autonomous University of Mexico, and a doctorate in Water Resource Management from the Royal Institute of Technology (KTH), Sweden. Presently, holds the position of Vice President of Third World Centre for Water Management, specializing in environmental issues in water resource management.