

Need information on the March 11 Japan Earthquake and Tsunami in English ?

JICA is conducting a project study on "effective countermeasures against Earthquake and Tsunami Disasters" as one of its commitments to the "Great East Japan Earthquake."

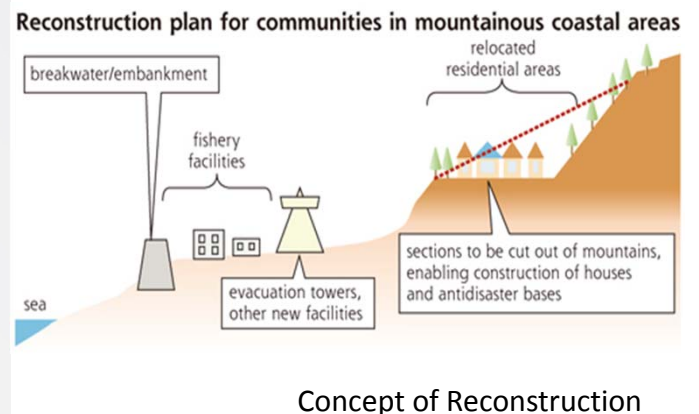

This project study aims to obtain lessons from the disaster itself and the recovery process that can be applied to JICA's future assistance to developing countries in the field of disaster risk reduction (DRR).

In this context, JICA has set up an English website for the purpose of sharing various information related to the catastrophe with the international community.

You can download:

- (1) Our activities and field reports
- (2) Provisional translation of official documents and reports
- (3) Future direction of JICA's assistance in the field of DRR
