Outline
The program is organized by UNAFEI, which has a wealth of experience and depth of knowledge in providing useful training for criminal justice practitioners. This course, which targets criminal justice practitioners in the area of correction services, rehabilitation services or other criminal justice organizations responsible for the treatment of offenders, covers specific themes which reflect up-to-date international trends in the field of institutional and community corrections. This course consists of presentations by, and group discussions among, course participants as well as a variety of lectures from Japanese and foreign experts and observation visits to relevant institutions. Thereby, it offers an invaluable opportunity for its participants to share experience and knowledge among each other and to search for "best practices" which can be applied to each country in its own context. Furthermore, it serves as a basis for creating a worldwide network of practitioners in the field of criminal justice.
