This program is designed for health personnel to formulate an effective and feasible health service plan for solving their issues on prevention of infectious diseases.

Objective
This program is designed for health personnel to formulate an effective and feasible health service plan for solving their issues on prevention of infectious diseases.

Outcome
1. To clarify the issues on infection currently facing to participants and their organizations, and then explain those priorities.
2. To analyze the roles and functions of health administration in Japan and regional governments, linkage systems among institutions concerned and measures for prevention conducted in community levels through the case study of Okinawa Prefecture, and southernmost local government in Japan, then explain the applicable measures in respective countries.
3. To formulate a feasible and concrete project proposal.

Contents

Preliminary Phase in a participant's home country
Formulation of Job Report

1. Method of Project Cycle Management
3. Methodology of making project proposal

Finalization Phase(activities in home country)
Implementation of new activities with utilization of acquired knowledge in Japan

Outline
This program is designed for prevention of infectious diseases through enhancement of public health, and focuses on following contents.