Livestock Promotion and Animal Health Enhancement Project (ODA Loan)

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The project provides financing to farmers and livestock businesses through Participating Financial Institutions (PFIs) to promote investment in the livestock sector. It also supports the procurement of advanced diagnostic and food safety testing equipment for national and regional laboratories, together with technical assistance to strengthen the capacity of farmers, laboratories, and financial institutions.

PROJECT OBJECTIVE

The project improves the access to finance for farmers and companies engaged in the livestock industry and to enhance livestock hygiene by providing Two-Step Loans, upgrading the equipment of Republican and Regional Centers for Diagnosis of Animal Diseases and Food Safety, and providing technical support to farmers and companies, laboratories as well as PFIs, thereby contributing to the promotion of livestock industry and food security.

PROJECT OUTLINE

Project Duration

2026-2034

Loan Amount

21.368 billion JPY

Executing Agency

Committee of Veterinary and Livestock Development

Expected Impact

- Improved access to finance for livestock farmers and businesses
- Enhanced animal disease diagnosis and food safety testing