This research was an initiation of the JICA research Institute. We have obtained kind suggestions from the research team of this institute on methodological guideline as well as other supports. We would like to thank the JICA Research Institute for this continuous arrangement. We have also obtained the suggestion we have had in our presentation at the JICA Bangkok Office during our field survey in Thailand at the beginning of our research task. Moreover, we have had a precious time during JICA's invitation to join the ADB's meeting in Yokohama, May, 2017.

We would like to thank the National Economic and Social Development Board (NESDB), and other various Government Agencies, Thailand for their data supports and allow the research team to quote their data sources and provide insights into the data applications. Our analysis would have been incomplete if without the assistance from our students at the Saitama University and Thammasat University. We thank them for their contributions.

Last but not least, the authors would like to express our appreciation to Prof. H. Taguchi and Prof. M. Nagashima for their mental support throughout the project commitment. All the remaining analysis is our personal views and responsibility. The JICA Research Institute, the Saitama University and the Thammasat University have no responsible in our views and written documents, whatsoever.
