8th Global Symposium on Health Systems Research

Building Just and Sustainable Health Systems Centring People and Protecting the Planet

Debate and discussion of what it takes to build just and sustainable health systems will be organised across four inter-related sub-themes:

- Strengthening health systems for planetary health;
- Advancing health system equity, inclusion and belonging in times of peace and conflict;
- Governance, policy, and institutional frameworks for sustained population health impact; and
- Knowledge for just health systems.
