

The importance of vehicle registration

- All vehicle owners are obligated to pay road tax.
- If an owner does not transfer or deregister the vehicle, the previous owner has to be taxed.
- If a vehicle owner does not deregister a vehicle, the initial owner will bear the full responsibility for penalties regarding illegal vehicle modifications and number plates used incorrectly.
- If an owner does not register the vehicle properly, action may be taken by the police. Examples of punishable offenses are:
  - Driving a vehicle without a vehicle ID card or number plate;
  - Deliberately driving with a fake driver's license, vehicle identification certificate, number plate, or other fake operator's licenses
  - Falsifying a driver's license, vehicle identification certificate or number plate, or other operator's licenses
  - Not returning the number plate or vehicle registration ID card of a discarded vehicle.
- An appropriate vehicle registration can make it possible to trace a stolen vehicle.

The importance of vehicle inspections

- All vehicle owners have a liability to bring vehicles to vehicle inspections. If a vehicle owner does not receive a proper inspection, they will be subject to a fine.
- Vehicle inspections ensure a vehicle's safety and prevent environmental pollution.
- Proper vehicle inspections reduce the number of poorly maintained vehicles and resulting traffic accidents.
- Vehicle inspections allow vehicles to be used longer.
- If poor maintenance in the early stages is discovered through a vehicle inspection, the cost of repairs can be reduced.

The importance of an online system

- The online system for vehicle registration/inspection makes the process smooth and saves time. Vehicle owners no longer need to wait in long queues at offices anymore.
- Vehicle owners can access the online system on both computers and cell phones.
- Vehicle owners pay a commission fee only through private payment counters (Ex. Wing, Smart Luy, Ly Huor, etc.) to make payments transparent.
- Vehicle owners who complete vehicle registration can select special numbers and sizes for their vehicle number plates.
