The first hand-over of seed animals takes place at Huoi Mua A, Keo Lom, Dien Bien Dong District on November 30, 2011.

Speech by Mr. Bong, vice-chairman of Keo Lom

Allocation of 6 cows through lot drawing

Cows have arrived!

A reporter is interviewing Mr. Ky, Project Manager of SUSFORM-NOW

Prior to the delivery, training on animal health care was organized in close collaboration with the district PMU (Hang Tro B)

Support for animal raising activities is a part of livelihood development activities under SUSFORM-NOW: Project for Sustainable Forest Management in the Northwest Watershed Area. Interest group of Huoi Mua A came to choose seed cows.

6 seed cows arrived in Huoi Mua A at 9:15 am. Seed cows were distributed to 6 interest group members through lot drawing in order to ensure that they be given equal opportunities in selecting cows. After a certain period of time, seed cows are scheduled to be revolved to the second group of the Interest Group.

Prior to the delivery, training was given at the four villages for animal health care, vaccination, etc. in close collaboration with an extension officer from Dien Bien Dong and a PMU member of Dien Bien District. Such collaborations with District and Commune offices will be essential for providing timely countermeasures when abnormalities are observed in daily monitoring of the health conditions of animals.
