FY2027 Application Guide for “Scholarship for Nikkei Communities in Latin America and the Caribbean: Program for Developing Leaders in Nikkei Communities”

Japan International Cooperation Agency (hereinafter JICA) calls for applications to the 2027 “Scholarship for Nikkei Communities in Latin America and the Caribbean: Program for Developing Leaders in Nikkei Communities” as detailed below.

1. Aim of the Program and Expected Participants

The aim of this program is to assist Japanese emigrants in their resettlement efforts and to help them establish their lives overseas by nurturing future leaders among Nikkei communities. To this end, the program gives an opportunity of studying abroad in Japan to Japanese emigrants and their descendants living in Central, South America and the Caribbean. This program is open to those Nikkei who have been admitted to study at a graduate school in Japan, including individuals who wish to do so. In light of this, those who are deemed able to fulfill the above-mentioned purpose are invited to apply.

2. Ideal candidate profile

Those who wish to contribute to the development of the Nikkei communities in Latin America and the Caribbean and act as a “bridge” or “co-creation partner” between Japan and Latin America and the Caribbean.

3. Participating Countries (11 countries)

Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Dominican Republic, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru, Uruguay, Venezuela

4. Application period

July 1 (Wed.) 2026 – September 25 (Fri.) 2026

The application documents must be sent to JICA overseas office from outside Japan, or to the Association of Nikkei & Japanese Abroad from domestic applicants in Japan (herein after “JICA overseas office, etc.”) during the said period.

5. Expected Number of Participants

JICA will accept approximately 10 participants.

6. Fields of Study

Areas of research that can benefit the economic and social development of Nikkei communities and the countries they reside.

[Note 1]: Those majoring in medicine and odontology/dentistry cannot take part in clinical work, such as examining patients and conducting operations until receiving approval from the Minister of Health, Labour and Welfare based on the Japanese law.

[Note 2]: Practical training such as special technical skills to be gained at factories is not included as part of the designated fields of study to be conducted at Japanese university.

7. Applicant Eligibility

To be eligible for this program, applicants must meet all of the following requirements.

- (1) Be a Japanese emigrant and descendant (In principle, up to third generation Nikkei)
- (2) Age: Under 40 years of age as of April 1, 2027 (born after April 2, 1987)
- (3) Academic Background: Completion of undergraduate-level education (bachelor's degree holders) including those expecting to graduate by March 2027.
- (4) Admission into Graduate School.
  - ① Those who have been admitted as full-time graduate students, and as research students or non-degree/part-time students at undergraduate/graduate level (hereinafter non-regular student), as well as those who are enrolled as above;
  - ② In addition, among those wishing to enter graduate school, individuals who have received informal consent from Japanese graduate school for admission as full-time students upon passing the entrance exam or similarly received such consent as non-regular students.
- (5) Japanese Language Proficiency: Having a sufficient level of Japanese language ability for daily living in Japan.
- (6) Work/Employment: If the applicant is currently under employment, he/she needs to resign or take a leave of absence from work prior to entering university so as to concentrate on his/her studies. During the period in which JICA provides support, with "Student" visa status, the applicant will not be allowed to engage in work, except activities within the scope allowed by the Minister of Justice as "activity other than that permitted under the status of residence previously granted."
- (7) Health: Being in a physically and mentally fit condition.

[Note 1]: Military personnel on active duty or civilians employed by the military cannot apply for this program under their present status.

[Note 2]: In principle, those who have already arranged to receive scholarship/financial aid from other organizations, or those who plan to engage in employment during the scheduled study period are not entitled to apply for this program.

[Note 3]: “Research Student” signifies a person who has been admitted conducting research in a specified field of study for a semester or for one academic year, apart from regular curriculum to obtain a degree. *If you are going to submit your research plan only as a research student, allowance will not be provided.

8. Period of Allowance Provision

- (1) After arriving in Japan, allowance will be provided up to a year for those who need research period as a non-regular student (research student or non-degree/part-time student, etc.)
- (2) After the above-mentioned period, when the student enrolls as a full-time status, additional years of allowance will continue to be provided: 2 more years to those entering a master’s course, 4 more years for doctoral course in medicine and odontology, and 3 more years for other fields of doctoral studies respectively. If Japanese language training is required by university prior to entering master’s and doctoral programs, allowance can be provided up to six months during the language training.
- (3) Necessary expenses incurred beyond the period of allowance provision will be borne by the student himself/herself.
- (4) Provision of allowance will be suspended from the second year onward if the student is not enrolled in university as a full-time student, although non-regular student is entitled for allowance for his/her first year.
- (5) For those who start receiving allowance as a graduate student, provision of allowance lasts for the minimum number of years required for obtaining respective degrees. (For example, 1 year provision for a second-year master student, and 3-year long provision for a second-year medicine/odontology doctoral student.)
- (6) Extension of the provision of allowance will not be admitted for those who do not obtain a degree within the designated period of allowance provision.

9. Details of Allowance and Method of Provision

- (1) Travel Allowance: In-kind provision

For designated itinerary and routes, economy (the most economical) class airline ticket will be provided for traveling between airport located in the capital city of student’s home country or another international airport that JICA designates to an international airport in Japan.

- (2) Transportation Cost: Provision of actual expenses

When the international student travels to and from Japan, transportation costs will be provided based on JICA’s guidelines for traveling between the selected international airport in Japan to the city in which the host university is located. Upon arrival, transportation cost will be paid to student's bank account after arriving in Japan. For departure, necessary transportation expense will be remitted to student's bank account prior to leaving from Japan. (For those students who become entitled for allowance while in graduate school or living in Japan, transportation cost to travel to the venue of JICA's orientation will be provided as needed.)

(3) Living Allowance: 4,953 yen-5,052 yen (daily amount)

In accordance with JICA's standard for technical training participants (long-term trainees), the above-mentioned daily amount will be provided. However, when the international student takes leave or is absent from school for a long period of time, living allowance will not be provided as a general rule. After student's arrival in Japan, the allowance is to be remitted to his/her bank account every two months. Please note that the daily allowance will be calculated based on JICA's guidelines, taking into account additional stipend for designated areas. The allowance covers the date of arrival in Japan and the date of departure from Japan, as well as hospitalization period. Living allowance is intended to be used for other necessary expenses (such as purchasing books, domestic travel costs for research in Japan) and commuting fare to school as well.

(4) Outfit Allowance on arrival in Japan: 100,000 yen

This allowance will be provided upon arrival in Japan for purchasing necessities for living in Japan. Please note that the allowance is not provided for those who already have a base of residence in Japan.

(5) Moving (Housing) Allowance: 164,000 yen-224,000 yen

This allowance will be provided to cover temporary spending for initial rental contract and buying furniture that is essential for daily living. As a general rule, moving allowance is provided only one time during the study period in Japan. Exact amount of the allowance will be determined in consideration of additional stipend for designated regions according to JICA's guidelines.

(6) Airport Facility Fee: Provision of actual expenses

This fee includes passenger facility charge and security service surcharge at Japanese international airport upon returning to students' home country. JICA will pay the fee to travel agency in addition to airfare on the general condition that the student return to home country on the date authorized by JICA.

(7) Tuition: Provision of actual expenses

① Enrolment Fee and Tuition, etc.

Actual cost, stipulated by school regulations of university or Japanese language institutions, will be provided for those who have arranged to enter school after receiving the letter of admission to this program. As a general rule, JICA will pay directly to university or Japanese language institution. In cases where JICA cannot do so due to the university's policy (for instance, at some public universities, students have to pay in cash at a designated branch of bank during a specified period,) JICA will pay to the school via student or student will be asked to prepay the fee and JICA will reimburse him/her for the cost. Please note that the provision of cost related to Japanese language studies is limited to those who are required to demonstrate certain level of Japanese proficiency prior to commencing master's or doctoral courses at university as mentioned in Section 8. (2) above.

As education and research expenses, travel expenses and conference participation fees for attending academic conferences held in Japan, and expenses for presenting research results in the doctoral program (paper submission fees, etc.) will be paid based on the application from the students with the approval of the supervisor of the supervisor.

② Examination Fee

JICA will provide the examination fee only when student has applied to school after receiving the letter of admission to this program. In case the students apply to several universities at a time, JICA will pay only for the one that student decides to get enrolled.

[Notes]: Other expenses not mentioned above will be borne by student on his/her own including the following items.

- Enrolment fee for National Health Insurance
- Medical expenses
- Visa application fee for "Short Term" visa needed to visit Japan beforehand for taking an entrance exam, and round-trip travel expense.
