10. Features and Curriculum of Program

The International Business Studies Program (IBSP) consists of the three broad areas of study — Accounting & Finance, Management & Strategy, and International Business & Economics. Students can choose the courses and areas according to individual interests and purpose (Please see Annex). Please find the courses offered in the program from: <http://daigakuin.soka.ac.jp/ibs/academic-program.html>

The IBSP includes an internship program in Japan, so that synergy can be realized through the internship experience and course learning. Also, the program offers a unique opportunity and environment to understand globalized Asian business society through living and studying in Tokyo.
